What is Numerology ? An Introduction

Numerology is the study of numbers, and the mysterious manner in which they reflect certain aptitudes and character tendencies, as an integral part of your life plan. Each letter has a numeric value that provides a related cosmic connection. The sum of the numbers in your birth date and the sum of value derived from the letters in your name provide an interrelation of connections. These numbers show a great deal about your character, your purpose in life, what motivates you, and where your talents may lie.

There are eleven numbers used in constructing Numerology charts. These numbers are 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 22. Larger numbers that occur from adding the numbers in your complete birth date or from the values assigned to each name, are reduced until you achieve one of the core numbers. Merely add the components of the larger number together (repeatedly, if necessary) until a single digit (or the 'master' numbers 11 or 22) results.

Destiny your purpose, goal, and direction in this life

The Destiny number is derived from all the letters in your name. Always use the full, original name as it appears on your birth certificate. The Destiny number describes the talents and attitudes at your disposal in this lifetime if you choose to develop and use them. This is sometimes referred to as your potential or expression number. Living up to attributes of this number may not be easy, but it is your goal in the here and now. It is your life's purpose, spiritual mission, and your field of opportunity. Unlike the Birthpath number which reads you as you are, the Destiny number more correctly reads as you SHOULD be. Example of Destiny Number: SHIRLEY MACLAINE BEATY, Shirley equals 42 or 6, MacLaine equals 31 or 4, and Beaty equals 17 or 8. The subtotal number is $6+4+8=18$. Her Destiny Number is $1+8$ or 9. (Note that the spelling of her original last name had only one 't'; her brother, Warren Beatty, added the second.)

Birthpath your natural tendencies, abilities and attitude

The most important number that will be discussed here is your Birthpath number. The Birthpath describes the nature of this journey through your life. This is a number that is derived from all the numbers in your birth date, 3-18-1999. The Birthpath number is established from the date of birth. First, convert the month to a single number (yours is 3), then add this to the day converted to a single number (yours is 18), plus the combined digits of the birth year (yours is 1). In your case this total added up to 13. The individual digits are again added together, as necessary to reduce the sum to a single digit 1 through 9, or to the numerology 'master numbers,' 11 or 22. These master numbers are not reduced any further. Based on your birth date, Samantha, your Birthpath number is 4.

Your Heart's Desire inner likes and dislikes

The heart's desire, is an important core influence in numerology. This number is made up from the vowels (a, e, i, o and u) in your full name. The sum of all of these letter, converted to numbers, and reduced to a single number or a master number is your Heart's Desire. This means your inner craving, likes and dislikes. This number denotes what you value most regardless of Birthpath (what you are from birth) and destiny (what you will become in life).

Your Secret Dream Number a secret dream, your inner desires

The sum of the consonants in your name relates a secret dream, your inner desires, or maybe even fantasies. As a modifier, this aspect of your chart may be considered less important than many of the others because often these remote and deep-seated dreams are never realized. Sometimes, however, when this number has a relationship to another core number, the dream can come true. Strangely, this number is also associated with your personality or how people see you on first meetings. This number may be so strong in your subconscious that you even project the trait as a personality mask.

Pinnacle Phases of Life transitions

We are all inherently subject to major changes in our lives just as surely as we are subject to death and taxes. Numerology attempts to project major life changes and calls these monumental turns in the road pinnacles. If it weren't for these big transformations in life, the highly successful would become apathetic, and those struggling would soon feel totally hopeless. Pinnacles in our lives give us the necessary change of pace and direction that is stimulating and hopeful. Pinnacles show the direction that progress will lead us. A pinnacle is an experience occurring over a specific time in our life.

These pinnacle periods have been likened to the four seasons. The first pinnacle is in the spring of life. The second covering years of family raising and responsibility represents summer. The third covering middle-age and growing maturity of judgment represents the autumn of life, and the forth, consolidating the experiences of life, is represented by winter.

Each pinnacle is represent by a number and the number reflects the tone of the period. The pinnacle number is written in the birth date. We will use the month, the day and the year of birth in this calculation. The first step will be to reduce each of these components to a single digit base number. Even master numbers will be reduced in this exercise. Thus, December 14, 1968, would become month 3 (1+2), day 5 (1+4), and year 6 (1+9+6+8=24; 2+4=6).

The first period is derived from the adding the month and day of birth. In our example, this would be 3+5=8 first pinnacle. The second pinnacle is identified by adding the day of birth with the year of birth. The example would be 5+6=11; the master number 11 for a second pinnacle. The third pinnacle is identified by adding the first and second pinnacle. Our example would have an 8+11=19 or 1 third pinnacle. The fourth pinnacle is identified by adding the month and the year. Our example would produce a 3+6=9 fourth pinnacle.
