Love Sings a Song

Love songs sung softly by sweet voices of gold Thoughts of a poet through his poem gently told

Both speak of love that through the years has grown Both tell of two hearts reaping joy that they have sown

that grows sweeter with the years
Love sings a song
that comforts all your fears

Through commitment and trust and tender sweet care
The vintage of our love is God's gift we now share
